Your 12 week Organized Move Plan

Week 12

Start with the logistics

- Don't pack or move items which will no longer be useful for you.

Week 11

Begin to par down things

- It is time to sort through cabinets, closets, the garage, the living room, under the bed or anywhere else in the house where items accumulate.

Week 10

One Room a week

- Focus on one room a week and take stock of things you own. Items will go into the keep, sell, or maybe piles.

Week 9

Hire a Mover or Self Move

- Research to discover a reputable moving company or the cost to consider securing a truck for a self move.

Week 8

Services to turn on and off

- Contact your current utilities to schedule a transfer or termination of services. Next contact the utility providers for your new home.

Week 7

Garage Sale Prep

- Organize the items you have for sale into like groups. Post ads to craigslist or the newspaper. Make sure to advertise a highlight of items for sale, your location, and time frame.

Week 6

Garage Sale

- Stage your items like you are running your own store this way shoppers will make purchases.

Week 5

Bring in the Boxes

- Get your boxes delivered or buy sturdy boxes from U-Haul or Home Depot.

Week 4

Partially Packed

- Brown boxes should be partially packed and the rest should be sorted down to what is necessary.

Week 3

Additional Donation Run

- Most of us will make an additional donation run around this time.

Week 2

Pack up everyday life items

- Put away things which came in handy, but were not crucial for everyday life

Week 1

Plan a Party

- Plan a potluck party for neighbors and friends, use this as an opportunity to empty out the fridge and pantry.

Move Day!

Congratulations

- It pays off to plan ahead to create a less stressed organized move.
